Protection Services

- Unique customized disinfection protection system. HVAC system is an excellent breeding ground for mold, bacteria and viruses as well as the conveyor of contaminated air throughout the building. Contaminated systems have been linked with sick building symptoms as allergy, asthma and respiratory illnesses that are directly related to increased absenteeism, reduced productivity and increases liability. Key to reduce the biological contaminants is by doing cleaning using Virobust, a WHO recommended chemical which has a smaller particle and able to do deep cleaning. The chemical is clinically test proven by Chemlab, TUV,SIRIM and SGS
- By doing continuous cleaning, heat transfer and airflow for operational efficiency will be improved. It will keep the building occupants healthy while reducing energy consumption, maintenance costs and improving your bottom line. It helps to save money, energy and the environment.
- At homes, do not risk the health of your family with a moldy, bacteria and pathogen infused air conditioning system. If the air that you are pumping through your home is somewhat less than fresh, it is highly recommended that you book in for a thorough chemical-clean.
